The image is a large, colorful collage centered around school sports. At the top, the word "SHIBETCHA" is written in large, bold, black letters with a white outline. Below it, the Japanese text "広報しべちゃ" (Public Relations Shibecha) is visible. The main part of the collage features several photographs of students in action. A prominent photo in the center shows two male students running towards the viewer; one wears a red shirt with "You are the STAR" and the other a green shirt with the same phrase. They are holding batons, suggesting a relay race. To their right, another student in a blue jersey is shown jumping or running. In the upper right, two female students in blue shirts are playing what appears to be volleyball. On the left, a student in a red shirt is also seen in motion. Smaller inset photos show groups of students, some posing and others engaged in activities like basketball. Vertical Japanese text "アツいぜ、操中体育祭。" (It's hot, Sōchū Sports Festival.) runs down the middle-left side. At the bottom left, there is a QR code and a small photo of wooden blocks numbered 1 through 9. The bottom right corner features a chalkboard graphic with the number "8", the date "Aug.2026", and the issue number "No.822". Various other smaller photos and graphics are scattered throughout the collage, creating a sense of dynamic movement and community spirit.
